Mayor Zoë Baker re-elected

Congratulations to Councillor Zoë Baker who was re-elected as Mayor at the last Council Meeting on 25 September. She is joined by Councillor William Bourke as Deputy Mayor for the next 12 months. They were both elected uncontested.

"I am so grateful for the faith you have placed in me and beyond grateful to be able to serve with a group of councillors who have worked constructively and collaboratively to place community interest above personal interest." – Mayor Zoë Baker

Explore a snippet of local maritime history

We've opened the gates to the former Quarantine Boat Depot in Waverton. Council acquired the site from the State Government in 2022 with a plan to turn it into open space for the community. Since then, we've been busy cleaning back years of neglect and overgrowth. Now everyone can wander through it and enjoy the views of Berrys Bay.

Make every day more sustainable

North Sydney Living Futures Sustainability Festival

Sunday 29 October, 10am to 4pm, The Coal Loader Centre for Sustainability

It's here! The North Sydney Living Futures Sustainability Festival is on this month. Get ready for inspiration and information, as well as entertainment, fun and networking opportunities at The Coal Loader on Sunday 29 October.

What can you expect? A dedicated Eco Kids section, music, mini-talks, workshops, demonstrations and stalls to browse. Join in the fun at clothing, art or book swaps, get a free bike tune-up and bring along any textiles that need repairing.

There will be plenty of things to keep you busy as you get inspired to take the next step on your sustainability journey - no matter how far along it you already are.

The festivities run from 10am to 4pm.

Where should kayak storage go in Tunks Park?

Council is considering two locations for new kayak storage in Tunks Park, Cammeray - Lower Cliff Avenue or Mortlock Reserve. Each spot allows for a different kayak capacity and storage design. You can share your thoughts on the proposed locations until 12 November.
