

13 February 2024 – The Rich Drama of the Court – Robin Gandevia

Join us for a fascinating talk by Robin Gandevia, a seasoned court attendee, as he unveils the rich drama of court proceedings. He has been referred to as “The Custodian of the NSW Supreme Court”. He will give a 45-minute talk about his experiences attending criminal and civil trials over two decades. Don’t miss this opportunity to gain insight and have your questions answered.

The following topics will be covered:

- Why was Roger Rogerson so desperately unlucky to be charged for murder (with Glen McNamara)?
- Why did the Obeids give Kate McClymont (SMH) 17 volumes of their financial records? “It was the beginning of the end of the Obeid empire.” [SMH 15/12/2016.]
- With just the Indian couple at home, there is a quarrel, minutes later the wife appears running down the driveway on fire! She died - who else could be responsible for her death except her husband?

Robin is a seasoned court attendee, referred as “The Custodian of the NSW Supreme Court”. He continues to attend court trials these days. Robin is known to Mark Tedeschi AM KC, for many years attending his murder trials in Supreme Court. Robin was described by Mark Tedeschi: “Because of his great experience in watching criminal trials, he has come to have what is, to a non-lawyer a considerable knowledge of criminal trial practice and procedure. He is an inherently intelligent man who has good powers of observations.” The inspiring journey of Robin who attended court trials for two decades, demonstrates the power of embracing one’s passions.

Come and listen to Robin at our Waverton Hub Speakers’ Presentation: 2pm at the Waverton Uniting Church Hall, 75 Bay Road, Waverton Tuesday 13 February 2024. No need to book – free entry – all invited.
